

MORNING APPEAL.

TUESDAY.....OCTOBER 22

A CROOM'S CALL.

The papers are complimenting the gallant fight made by Miss Huntington to make her papa open his purse to enable her to wed Count somebody in Europe.

The compliments ought to go to the gallant and gall-soaked groom, who coolly asks C. P. Huntington not only for his daughter, but a round ten million for debts and dowry, and Huntington, unable to stand the combination of Count, maid and mamma, is seriously proposing to do it.

It is pretty rough on us poor devils in Nevada to think how we have been paying high freight bills and back freight bills all these years to see one of these confounded Italian Counts quietly coming in and scooping the pile.

This business of Americans going over to Europe to secure some broken down, pauperized nobleman for a son-in-law is a lot of blasted idiocy.

One family has hooked some poor, miserable wretch with a title, and a lot of other families are green with envy until their girl has succeeded in hooking a title also. Of course, Huntington himself has too much sense to willingly take a hand in this sort of foolishness, but his daughter has an idea that she can never meet the Countess Gaudicini until she is also a titled woman, and she fills her mamma up with the idea, and then the two having run across the game, make a dead set at the old man, and they worry the life out of him until he comes down.

These beggarly noblemen are on to the combination, and they begin to demand the wedding backsheesh or whatever they call it, and if the American bleeds readily, they cook up a lot of mythical debts, and then they make a haul that keeps all their poverty stricken relations in meat twice a week for the rest of their lives.

If some American were to come to C. P. Huntington and ask for his daughter and ten millions thrown in, he would get kicked down the steps too quick.

A Forty Page Paper.

Last Sunday's Examiner was printed on its new "inset" presses, and was a forty-page edition. The paper is now published after the style of the New York Herald. The old style of presses restrict the publisher to an edition, the pages of which must be multiples of four, such as eight, sixteen, thirty-two etc. The new style of press enables the publisher to print any number of pages.

The composing room sets up all the matter that reaches them, and the pages are sent down to the stereotyping room as fast as they are completed.

If a rush of news comes after midnight it makes no difference, and it is set up regardless of the size of the paper. Instead of an eight page paper, it can be a nine page, ten page, eleven or twelve, or forty as required.

This is an immense advantage to a morning paper, and one which will enable it to print all the news at any time. The Examiner made a ten strike with its forty page edition, and also gave to the public a lot of contributions in the shape of well known public men who for the first time contributed to a newspaper over their signatures.

The Water War.

M. Cohn informs the writer that at present there is very little water coming down the Carson river despite the rain, from the fact that three big ditches are taking the water out of the river on the California side and running it into Diamond Valley. Water is also being taken out above Fredricksburg.

The Diamond Valley ditches, he estimates, have taken out about 3000 inches.

M. Cohn asks why suits are not being ag these people instead of the ranchers in Carson Valley.

The Alta mine is getting ready for another "deal."

A HALE OLD MAN.—Mr. James Wilson of Allens Springs, Ill., who is over sixty years of age, says: "I have in my time tried a great many medicines, some of excellent quality; but never before did I find any that would so completely do all that is claimed for it as Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is truly a wonderful medicine." For sale by Geo. C. Thaxter.

Mr. E. P. Lovejoy, a large dealer in general merchandise, and editor of the Wabuska Mangler, at Wabuska, Nevada says: "I have tried St. Patrick's Pills and can truthfully say they are the best I have ever taken or known used." As a pleasant physic or for disorders of the liver they will always give perfect satisfaction. For sale by G. C. Thaxter.
